

Police / Firefighters draw attention to a National Cause myparrysoundnow.com/21207/police-firefighters-draw-attention-national-cause/

Kent Matheson

1/6/2017

“Heroes in the Sky” will be perched on the roof of the Parry Sound Fire Hall tonight as they camp out in support of Joe Roberts coast to coast “The Push For Change” to raise awareness of youth homelessness by pushing a shopping cart across the country. The group of OPP officers and auxiliary members along with Parry Sound Firefighters will raise funds for Joe’s cause. Local firefighter Nathan Jeffrey highlights one of the reasons for supporting “The Push for Change”.

Audio Player

00:00

00:00

Use Up/Down Arrow keys to increase or decrease volume.

The “Heroes in the Sky” will also be collecting non-perishable food items and warm clothing for use locally. Joe Roberts “Push For Change” arrives in Parry Sound next Wednesday when he’ll meet with students at Parry Sound High School from 12:30 – 3:30 p.m. Then meet with the public from 3:00 – 5:00 p.m. at District Social Services on Church Street.

